To Our Subscribers

Due to technical difficulties, the Farmers and Consumers Market Bulletin has been unable to accept classified advertisements through our website. We have established a temporary link that allows you to submit ads electronically through the "Submit an Ad" button on the right side of our home page at <http://www.agr.georgia.gov/market-bulletin.aspx>.

We apologize for any inconvenience this has caused you. Please give us a call at 404.656.3722 if we can be of assistance to you.

GUEST COLUMN:

Mercer University School of Medicine announces collaboration with the Market Bulletin

By Jean Sumner, M.D., Dean
Mercer University School of Medicine

Jean Sumner, M.D.

Mercer University School of Medicine, our faculty and students are honored to begin a partnership with the Market Bulletin. Our purpose is to present various healthcare topics and tips to the Bulletin's many readers. We want to begin by telling you about our mission and history. It will, we hope, help explain our unwavering commitment to rural and underserved Georgia.

The Georgia Legislature established the School of Medicine at Mercer in 1982 to educate physicians and health professionals to meet the needs of rural and medically underserved areas with a focus on primary care. Mercer University School of Medicine's mission is to educate Georgia students who understand the needs and complexities of rural communities, students who will become well trained, compassionate health care professionals in Georgia and practice in rural and medically underserved areas of this state. Our goal is to provide rural, underserved Georgians access to care delivered with the highest level of skill, compassion and integrity.

We only accept Georgia residents and give preference to students with rural roots. Because of this, we lead our state and nation in percentage of graduates who remain in their home state to practice.

MUSM graduated its first class of physicians in 1986. Those Mercer doctors and other health professionals have improved access and quality of care across Georgia, but particularly in areas of greatest need. Our faculty and students have demonstrated sustained dedication in their pursuit of scholarly work and community service activities that make a difference in Georgia and the world. Over this time, we have developed a body of knowledge that helps us contribute to the development of a sustainable rural health infrastructure.

MUSM has three campuses: Macon, Savannah and Columbus. The full four-year M.D. program is offered on the Macon and Savannah campuses. Columbus is a clinical campus offering a complete third- and fourth-year curriculum. We also require clinical rotations with health care institutions, organizations and individual physicians in rural and underserved areas of Georgia. These rotations provide opportunities to develop a broad, deep knowledge of health issues facing patients, as well as the development of strong clinical skills and interdisciplinary teamwork.

Our students have the opportunity to learn in institutions such as Memorial University Medical Center in Savannah; Columbus Regional Health in Columbus; St. Francis Hospital in Columbus; Medical Center at Navicent Health in Macon; and Coliseum Medical Center in Macon. We have a rich network of dedicated community physician preceptors throughout the state that teach our campuses.

In addition to the M.D. program, MUSM offers Master's degree programs in Pre-clinical Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, and Marriage and Family Therapy. These graduates add equally to quality of care and access to care across Georgia.

I was a member of the first class of physicians to graduate from MUSM. After graduation, I practiced in a small, rural county. In my opinion, there is no more meaningful, challenging or rewarding work. The opportunity to change health care in Georgia by becoming a physician or healthcare professional and serving in an area of need requires the best and brightest and those with courage, high intellect and a servant's heart. This opportunity exists at Mercer University School of Medicine.

As Dean of the School of Medicine and a physician who spent my life practicing in rural Georgia, I take personally the commitment MUSM made to help make sure all Georgians, in every corner of the state, have access to high quality healthcare. We believe the farm families, agricultural related industry and the many organizations that are vital to our state's rural economy are willing partners in this endeavor.

If MUSM can possibly provide any service to you, your business, trade association, school or family, we want to help. Please reach out and help us make Georgia the envy of the rest of the country by having the healthiest rural communities.

My office phone number is 478.301.4022 or email me at sumner_jr@merc.edu.

May 2018 be your most prosperous ever!

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

students. Through these exceptional opportunities, our students acquire a broad range of experiences and develop the skill and judgment needed to serve their patients and communities.

Mercer medical students learn using a unique problem-based, faculty-guided curriculum. As part of small group and team-based learning experiences, students use clinical cases to learn and understand basic sciences which form the foundation of medical practice. Early in the curriculum students participate in rural and community-based patient care, which recurs throughout the four years. This curriculum is consistent and robust across all

Advertise in the Market Bulletin

Classified advertisements in the Market Bulletin are free to subscribers and limited to one ad per issue per subscriber number. Out-of-state subscribers may only publish ads in the Out-of-State Wanted category. Advertisements from businesses, corporations, dealerships, real estate agents or other commercial entities are not permitted. Advertising is limited to farm-related items.

Advertisers and buyers are advised to be aware of state and federal laws governing the sale and transfer of live animals. The Georgia Department of Agriculture does not assume responsibility for transactions initiated through the Market Bulletin but will use every effort to prevent fraud. Advertisers are expected to fulfill the terms of their offers. Failure to do so through either negligence or intention may require the Market Bulletin to refuse future ads.

Market Bulletin staff reserves the right to designate ad length and to edit for spelling, grammar and word count. Ads run a maximum of two consecutive issues if the category allows. A new ad must be submitted to run longer than two consecutive issues.

Ads in regularly published categories are limited to 20 words including name, address, email address and phone number. The following ad categories are published periodically and allow up to 30 words: Farm Services; Farm Services Wanted; Farmland Rent/Lease; Farmland Rent/Lease Wanted; Farmland for Sale; Handicrafts. Ads for Farmland for Sale are published twice per year, in the spring and the fall.

There are three ways to submit your ad.

Market Bulletin Farmland Ad Form

The Spring 2018 Farmland Edition of the Market Bulletin will be published March 14. The deadline to submit ads for that issue is noon Feb. 28.

Ad guidelines: Only Georgia farmland of five acres or more may be advertised. Include price, acreage and county where the property is located. All property must be for sale by the owner. A maximum word count of 30 – including name, address, phone number and city – is permitted in Farmland ads. Only one ad per subscriber per issue. You must be a paid subscriber to advertise in the Market Bulletin. Fax to 404.463.4389 or mail to: Georgia Department of Agriculture, Att: Market Bulletin, 19 Martin Luther King Jr. Dr. SW, Atlanta, GA 30330.

I hereby certify that the above notice meets all the necessary requirements for publication in the upcoming farmland edition of the Farmers and Consumers Market Bulletin.

LIVESTOCK

All livestock must have been in the advertiser's possession for at least 90 days before they can be advertised. Livestock listed must be for specific animals. Generalized ads such as "many breeds of cattle" or "want horses, any amount" will not be published. Ads for free or unwanted livestock will not be published. Ads for cats, dogs, reptiles, rodents and other animals not specifically bred for on-farm use will not be published.

The Department does not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, national origin, age or disability in the admission or access to, or treatment in, its employment policy, programs or activities. The Department's Administration Division coordinates compliance with the non-discrimination requirements contained in Section 35.107 of the Department of Justice Regulations. Information concerning the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act, and the rights provided thereunder, are available from this division. If you require special assistance in utilizing our services, please contact us.

Swine

If you have questions regarding ads in this category, call 404-656-3722.

Advertisers submitting swine ads must submit proof of a negative brucellosis and pseudorabies test from within the past 30 days. Exceptions are swine from a validated brucellosis-free and qualified pseudorabies-free herd; these operations must submit proof of that certification. If you are faxing or mailing in an ad, the test needs to be sent along with it. For ads submitted online, the test can be attached using the attachments button. Buyers are urged to request proof of a negative brucellosis and pseudorabies test prior to purchase.
